"The Egyptian Revolution"

We have very little information concerning the identity, composition, or sponsorship of the group calling itself the "Egyptian Revolution" (or "Egypt's Revolution"). Our records indicate that the group has claimed responsibility for the following terrorist operations:

--The assassination of an Israeli diplomat in Cairo on 20 August 1985.

--The attempted assassination of another Israeli diplomat in Cairo on 4 June 1984. [REDACTED]

In statements claiming credit for these attacks, the group has described itself as a nationalist movement violently opposed to the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty. The statements threatened that similar operations would continue until all Israeli diplomats leave Cairo. [REDACTED]
